

Join us July 29-30, 2024 at Lipscomb University in Nashville, TN for a two day event for novice nurse educators and experienced faculty to learn and network. This nursing continuing professional development activity was approved for 10.25 contact hours of continuing education by the South Carolina Nurses Association, an accredited approver by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation.

Full Conference: $350
Monday Only: $175
Tuesday Only: $175

Registration is limited so don't wait!

Scan the QR code below for more conference information.

Directions, parking info, and specific details will be provided in your confirmation email

Conference Takeaways...

- ✓ Ability to identify strategies for making the first year of teaching successful.
- ✓ Ability to describe a new curricular design.
- ✓ Ability to discuss three instructional methods that can enhance your course.
- ✓ Ability to identify each element of the syllabus.
- ✓ Ability to identify basic elements of clinical teaching
- ✓ Ability to discuss how simulation can enhance your teaching in the classroom and in the clinical setting.
- ✓ Ability to discuss evaluation methods for didactic and clinical courses.
- ✓ Ability to identify the significance of the NCLEX-RN examination.
- ✓ Ability to identify three reasons why program evaluation is significant to faculty and the nursing program.

Register today at:
TNurses.care/NEI-2024